Subject:	Some news

Hi Sara,

How are you? We've moved! Our new apartment has more space than our old one did, and I'm glad that I don't have to share a room with my baby brother anymore. Also, Mum says we can get a cat, but I need to give it food and water every day. That's no problem!

School starts at 8 am and most mornings Dad drives me there. I prefer to arrive before lessons start. If I'm late, I have to wait until the lunch break to have a conversation with my friends.

You asked about my cousin Harry. I like him because he always makes me laugh! He has a job making bread and cakes! I love eating them – I'm sure you would, too!

See you soon,

Ben

Subject:	Hello!

Hi Jordan,

In your last email, you told me about a rock concert you're going to during the school holidays. I've never heard of that band. Can you tell me where they're from? I hope you have a great time, and afterwards, please post some photos! I wanted to get a ticket for a pop concert last year but it cost too much. Maybe next year!

Over the next two weeks, I don't have any plans, but I'll be busy at the end of summer. There's an art festival in my town then. My aunt knows I love art, so she always takes me to it. It's on for five days, so sometimes we go twice. My aunt prefers going before lunch as it's less crowded. Lots of different artists display their art, which you can look at and buy. It's fun walking around and looking at everything. I especially enjoy the paintings. Seeing everything gives me ideas for art that I can do at home.

I'm really excited to start school again, although getting up early every day won't be easy, of course. I'll be happy to return to the drama club, it's really important to me. There's also a trip planned for the whole class to go to a chocolate factory! Our teacher wants us to learn about how it's made, which will be interesting, but the best part will be eating some! I can't wait.

Write back soon!

5 Read the information about five people (a–e) and the eight advertisements for shopping malls (1–8).

Which shopping mall should each person or group of people choose?

For each person or group of people (a–e), write the correct number (1–8) on the line.

a  Amina is visiting the city and travelling by public transport. She wants a mall that feels lively where she can buy things made by local people.

b  Lee and Adam plan to spend a day at a mall. They don't have much to spend but want to get a burger and then see a film.

c  The Jones family want a mall with a play space for kids where their teenage son can look after his sister while mum gets groceries. They're also looking for a new sofa.

d  The Garcias want to book a table for their daughter's birthday lunch. They're shopping for a pair of top brand trainers, and they want free parking at the mall.

e  Chen wants a mall where he can get a haircut before he starts his weekend job at 10 am. He'd also like to compare different headphones in a store.

.....

Shopping Malls in Reed City

- 1 Port Mall
With a cinema, games arcade, and daily music performances, Port Mall provides entertainment for all ages. The shops sell everything from high-quality footwear, to speakers and headphones, and furniture. The food court is currently closed for improvements, sorry!
- 2 Massey Street Mall
If you want to wear the very best labels from head to toe, you'll get them all here! There's also a variety of restaurants, but most require reservations. If you're driving, there's no charge for parking during the day.
- 3 Grand Mall
This place is great for getting the latest trends without paying the highest prices. The top floor has entertainment including a cinema, bowling, video games, and a kids' play area. Don't miss the food court with its wide range of fast-food restaurants.
- 4 Southpoint Mall
With the city's biggest branches of many clothing stores here, you'll find lots of variety, as well as nail bars and places to get a haircut. There are cafés and restaurants for every occasion.
- 5 Green Valley Mall
A fantastic range of shops, with everything from fashion to furniture to books and music! There's a supermarket as well as fast-food chains for refreshments. Shoppers can bring their children to the indoor playground at no extra charge.
- 6 West Mall
This mall has an exciting atmosphere, with local music groups playing as well as lots of shops selling jewellery and artwork produced by artists from the city. Located beside the train station, the only parking available is in the nearby streets.
- 7 Tower Mall
Located outside the city but easily reached by bus, Tower Mall is popular for those who don't want to spend very much. Most shops open at 9 am, but the supermarket opens at 7.30 am for your convenience.
- 8 Bayside Mall
Open early seven days a week, with nail bars and hairdressers, a supermarket and a play area for kids. There are shops selling electronic items such as computers, headphones and music equipment, too.

My career playing guitar
by Jasmine Lieu

There was always music playing in my house when I was growing up. For my eighth birthday, I got a trumpet, which I enjoyed playing. Then when I was ten, I picked up a guitar for the first time. It belonged to my brother, but he never played it, so I did.

Soon after that, my parents found me a music teacher. He helped me really improve my technique. Although some kids have to be told to practise their instruments, I definitely didn't. In fact, my parents were a little anxious because they thought I played guitar too much.

I decided to study music at college, and I even started a band during my three years there. Unfortunately, there weren't enough music rehearsal rooms, but we found a room above a restaurant where we could go and not bother anyone with our playing. We spent many hours there.

Now I have a career as an independent guitarist, which means I do lots of different jobs in music. I've played in live concerts and recording studios. I've worked with musicians from all over the world. Of everything I've done, playing in the band on a TV talent show has been one of my favourites. We played a huge variety of music and got to meet the performers and judges. I also particularly enjoyed playing for a film about dinosaurs. The music was brilliant.

When I first started working, I had to look for adverts in magazines to find jobs but now everything's online, which is much easier. Despite working with famous people, I'm glad I'm not famous, because I don't get too much attention from the media. If anyone asks me about becoming an independent musician, I always explain that I had singing lessons and they really helped. In the pop music industry, we're often asked to do bits of singing on recordings. Also, reply to job offers quickly, or you might miss a great chance.

It's a brilliant career.
